

Staff Prevention and Response to Gender-Based Violence Procedure

Section 1 - Governing Policy

(1) This Procedure is governed by the Prevention and Response to Gender-Based Violence Policy. This Procedure and the Policy should be read together.

Section 2 - Procedure Statement

(2) This Procedure outlines initiatives by the University which are aimed at preventing gender-based violence.

(3) This Procedure also outlines:

- a. how staff or an affiliate can make a disclosure or formal report that they have experienced or otherwise become aware of gender-based violence;
- b. how a person, including a member of the public can make a disclosure or formal report that they have experienced or otherwise become aware of gender-based violence by a staff member; and
- c. how the University will respond in a trauma-informed and people-centred manner to any disclosures or formal reports regarding gender-based violence by or about University Members in connection to their employment or affiliation with the University.

Section 3 - Disclosures and Formal Reports

(4) If a staff member or affiliate (the Discloser) wishes to inform a member of the University community that they have experienced gender-based violence, they can do so by making a disclosure or a formal report:

- a. a disclosure is where a staff member or affiliate tells another staff member that they have experienced gender-based violence. A staff member or affiliate making a disclosure may simply wish to:
  - i. tell someone about the experience; or
  - ii. seek information about resources, work adjustments, support services or reporting options;
- b. a formal report is where a staff member or affiliate makes a disclosure of gender-based violence with an intention that some form of action will be taken beyond the offer and provision of support services, including (without limitation) the commencement of an investigation or a disciplinary process in appropriate circumstances.

(5) The Discloser can:

- a. make a disclosure only;
- b. make a formal report only; or
- c. make a disclosure first and then a formal report later.

(6) A disclosure or formal report can be made at any time. There is no time limit. However, the University encourages disclosures or reports to be made in a timely way to ensure that any delay does not impact upon the University's ability to address the situation.

(7) Subject to (8), the Discloser has autonomy and agency to decide:

- a. whether or not they wish to report the matter externally, e.g. to the police;
- b. how much information they wish to provide;
- c. what next steps, if any, will be taken; and

(8) Whether they wish to discontinue a disclosure or formal report they have made. This will not result in negative consequences for the staff member or affiliate, and a Safety and Wellbeing Consultant will work with the staff member or affiliate to address any concerns they may have. In limited circumstances, the University may take action without the consent of the Discloser, or continue action despite the Discloser wishing to discontinue – for example, if:

- a. there appears to be an immediate risk to the health or safety of the staff member or affiliate making the disclosure or formal report, or any other person;
- b. the conduct disclosed is of a nature that the law requires the University to report the information, e.g. where the disclosed gender-based violence has happened to someone under 18 years old; or
- c. a particular individual becomes the subject of disclosures or formal reports by more than one person, and the University is concerned there may be a risk to the health or safety of any person;

(9) If the University decides to take action under (8), the action taken and the reasons for it will be explained to the Discloser.

3.1 How to make a Disclosure or Formal Report

(10) A staff member or affiliate can make a disclosure or formal report

- a. online by completing the GBV online reporting form on the University Safeguarding and Incident Reporting site;
- b. by email to Staffrespectandsafety@acu.edu.au; or
- c. by telephone – by calling a Safety and Wellbeing Consultant on +61 455 269 604 or in person by speaking with a Safety and Wellbeing Consultant.

(11) Additional support services available to staff are set out in Appendices A and B.

(12) A University Member can complete the online reporting form on a staff member's behalf – for example, where a University Member is supporting the staff member through a disclosure or formal report.

(13) If a University Member witnesses or becomes aware of an incident of gender-based violence involving a staff member:

- a. Where reasonably practicable, the University Member should seek the staff member or affiliates's consent before making a disclosure or formal report; or
- b. If consent is not obtained, the University Member may submit the disclosure or formal report either:
  - i. in a de-identified manner (without naming the staff member or affiliate), or
  - ii. with the staff member's name included, if necessary for the report.

3.2 Anonymous Disclosure or Formal Report

(14) A staff member or affiliate can make an anonymous disclosure or formal report by completing the online reporting form without identifying themselves. However, where a staff member or affiliate does not provide their name and contact details:

- a. it will not be possible for the University to contact the staff member or affiliate to offer information and support; and
- b. the ability of the University to conduct an investigation or take other actions in response to the disclosure or formal report may be impacted.

(15) Regardless of any other actions taken, information from anonymous disclosures or formal reports will be incorporated into de-identified reporting. This data will be used to identify patterns and inform strategies aimed at continuously improving the University's prevention and response measures for staff in relation to gender-based violence.

(16) A staff member can make an anonymous disclosure or formal report first and then identify themselves at a later date. There is no time limit on this. However, a delay in a staff member identifying themselves may impact upon the University's ability to respond or take further action.

3.3 Support for Staff who are Responding to a Disclosure or Formal Report

(17) The University provides instruction so that staff and affiliates know how to respond to a disclosure or formal report:

- a. through staff training provided in online modules and workshops and
- b. on the University Responding to a Disclosure website.

(18) Where appropriate, University Members can support a Discloser by:

- a. listening attentively and without judgment;
- b. demonstrating kindness and empathy; and
- c. being patient and allowing the staff member to provide as much or as little information as they wish.

(19) Any staff member who receives a disclosure:

- a. must inform the Discloser that they can access support from a Safety and Wellbeing Consultant, who provides specialist safety and support for staff who have experienced gender-based violence;
- b. must notify the Safety and Wellbeing Consultant of the disclosure to support the University's whole-of-organisation prevention and support strategies. Staff must inform the discloser of their obligation to notify the Safety and Wellbeing Consultant and seek consent on what information can be shared, including anonymity preferences; and
- c. If relevant, may inform the Discloser that they can also seek support from the internal and external support services listed at Appendix A.

(20) The University acknowledges that supporting someone who discloses gender-based violence can be a difficult experience. A staff member who is supporting another person through a disclosure or formal report can seek support for themselves through the Employee Assistance Program (EAP) Counselling service.

Section 4 - Initial Assessment and Interim Actions

(21) Where a staff member or affiliate discloses or makes a formal report that they have experienced gender-based violence, the University's priority is to ensure the safety of the staff member or affiliate. For someone in immediate danger or requiring immediate medical attention, contact:

- a. Emergency Services on 000; and
- b. immediately afterwards contact the National Security Centre on 1300 729 452 or by using the Safezone App.

(22) Where a disclosure or formal report is received by Employment Relations team, the Safety and Wellbeing Consultant will engage collaboratively with the Discloser to prepare a tailored support plan which may include consideration of the following (where relevant):

- a. implementing any necessary interim measures to ensure the safety of the Discloser;
- b. undertaking ongoing risk assessments to manage and monitor any identified risks;
- c. explaining and prioritising access to support services based on the individual circumstances of the Discloser. This may include (when needed and/or requested):
  - i. referral to internal or external support services for persons who have experienced gender-based violence.
  - ii. prioritising access to translation and interpreter services; and
  - iii. prioritising access to services of an Accredited Specialist;
- d. support to apply for any reasonably required work adjustments;
- e. where necessary:
  - i. providing information about the investigation and disciplinary processes, including what role the Discloser might have and the possible outcomes or actions if the allegations are proven; and
  - ii. letting the Discloser know about any external reporting options (such as contacting the police).

Section 5 - Investigation of Gender-based violence

5.1 Formal Reports About Non-University Related Conduct or Non-University Members

(23) If a Discloser makes a formal report about an incident which is not university related conduct or relates to the alleged conduct of a person who is not a University Member (such as a former student, former staff member or affiliate or member of the public), the University:

- a. will provide support to the Discloser in accordance with Section 4;
- b. may not have the authority to take action in relation to the incident;
- c. will provide the Discloser with information about, or a referral to, a relevant external agency for resolution.

5.2 Formal Report Against a Student

(24) Following receipt of a formal report which includes alleged gender-based violence by a student:

- a. the Safety and Wellbeing Consultant will inform the staff member or affiliate that the matter will be managed in accordance with the Student Prevention and Response to Gender-Based Violence Procedure rather than this Procedure; and
- b. the Safety and Wellbeing Consultant will continue to support the Discloser including by providing the Discloser with updates and information, where appropriate.

5.3 Formal Report Against a Staff Member

(25) A Discloser who wishes to have their formal report of gender-based violence by another staff member investigated is encouraged to submit relevant information when making their formal report including:

- a. a detailed statement of what happened to them, including details of date(s), time(s) and location(s);
- b. details of any witnesses; and
- c. where relevant and appropriate, supporting documentation such as emails, text messages, social media messages or other communications, documents and screen shots.

(26) The Safety and Wellbeing Consultant can work with a staff member to help them identify which information to submit.

(27) The University respects the Discloser's right to decide how much information to include in a formal report. However, if insufficient information is provided, the ability of the University to conduct an investigation or take other actions in response to the disclosure or formal report may be impacted. For example, the University may have limited ability to conduct an investigation if the Discloser's identity is not provided, or if the formal report alleges gender-based violence by another staff member but does not identify that staff member.

(28) In such cases, the information provided will still be included in de-identified reports to help identify patterns and inform strategies for continually improving the University's prevention and response services for staff in relation to gender-based violence.

5.4 Preliminary Assessment

(29) Where a Discloser makes a formal report and requests to proceed to an investigation of their matter, Employment Relations will carry out a preliminary assessment of the formal report to determine whether the matter should proceed to investigation. The preliminary assessment will take into account:

- a. the formal report and any supporting documentation or information which has been submitted; and
- b. whether there is an apparent incident of alleged gender-based violence by a staff member; and
- c. whether sufficient information has been provided to enable an investigation to take place.

(30) Following preliminary assessment the University at its discretion and on a case-by-case basis, will decide whether a matter is referred for investigation.

(31) If the University decides not to refer the matter for external investigation, the University will:

- a. notify the Discloser and advise why this decision was made (if the Discloser's identity is known); and
- b. continue to offer support to the Discloser as relevant.

(32) The expected timeframe for external investigations and any resulting disciplinary process is no more than 45 working days. The University will only permit extensions of time where required in a particular context.

5.5 Notice that a Formal Report has been Made

(33) If a decision is made to refer a matter for investigation, the University will notify the Discloser and the Respondent. The notification will be:

- a. made in writing; and
- b. provided to the Discloser and the Respondent on the same day (with the notification to the Discloser occurring first).

(34) The notification to the Respondent will:

- a. inform the Respondent that a formal report of gender-based violence has been made against them;
- b. provide details of the alleged conduct which has led to the formal report of gender-based violence;

- c. outline any University policies, procedures, guidelines or codes which may have been breached through the staff member's conduct;
- d. where relevant, advise the Respondent if the allegation relates to alleged misconduct or serious misconduct pursuant to the Agreement;
- e. inform the Respondent that the matter is being referred for investigation, provide the name of the investigator, and inform the Respondent that the investigator will contact them to request an interview and / or a written response as part of the investigation process;
- f. encourage the Respondent to receive support from the University throughout the process; and
- g. include the list of support and information services in Appendix B 'ACU internal and external support services for staff members who are the subject of a formal report of gender-based violence'.

(35) If the Respondent admits the alleged conduct, and if appropriate in the University's view, the University may give the staff member a reasonable opportunity to improve their conduct. Otherwise, the matter will proceed to investigation in accordance with Section 5.6.

(36) A staff member or affiliate will be assigned to support the Respondent. The staff member or affiliate will engage collaboratively with the Respondent to prepare a tailored support plan which may include consideration of the following (where relevant):

- a. implementing any necessary interim measures to ensure the safety of the Discloser;

  - i. referral to internal and/or external support services;
  - ii. prioritising urgent access to translation and interpreter services; and
  - iii. prioritising urgent access to services of an Accredited Specialist; and
- d. considering and implementing requests for reasonable work adjustments.

(37) The same staff member or affiliate must not be assigned to support both the Discloser and the Respondent.

5.6 Investigation

(38) Where a matter is to be referred for investigation, the University will appoint and instruct an appropriately qualified and experienced investigator. The University may, at its discretion, appoint either an internal or external investigator to conduct the investigation.

(39) Any investigation will be conducted in a procedurally fair and transparent manner, this includes:

- a. providing the Respondent with enough information about the alleged conduct to understand the allegation/s;
- b. giving the Respondent an opportunity to respond to the allegations within 10 working days during the investigation and any subsequent disciplinary process; and
- c. conducting the investigation in a timely manner.

(40) The Respondent will be given the opportunity to participate in the investigation process. However, if they fail to engage (either within the required timeframe or at all) the investigation may proceed, and findings may be made based on the information available.

(41) During the investigation process:

- a. the Discloser will not be required to meet or directly engage with the Respondent unless the Discloser requests

- a. be connected with, or be perceived to be connected with, the matter; or
- b. act as an advocate for, or speak on behalf of, the individual.

(43) During the course of an investigation, additional information may come to light in relation to an existing formal report leading to further allegations of gender-based violence. If this occurs, the University or investigator will send a notice to the Respondent to provide them with relevant details, including details of any new alleged gender-based violence allegations, and will provide the Respondent with a further opportunity to respond, in writing or by interview (or both).

(44) While investigating a matter, the investigator may take into account any information they consider relevant. At the end of their investigation, the investigator will provide the University with a report of their investigation which will include findings of fact and may also include recommendations about whether the Respondent has engaged in:

- a. gender-based violence;
- b. any other form of misconduct;
- c. conduct in breach of the University's policies, procedures, guidelines or codes.

(45) An investigator's report will not include any findings about whether the Respondent's conduct may amount to criminal conduct.

(46) Any investigation conducted under these Procedures will constitute an investigation under Section 7.2 (Discipline Provisions) of the Agreement.

(47) Subject to the wishes of the Discloser, the University will inform the Discloser of the outcome of the investigation in writing (including whether a disciplinary process will be commenced) on the same day as the Respondent.

5.7 Staff Discipline Process

(48) Any staff member who is responsible for considering and determining an allegation of staff gender-based violence must have completed specialist training, to be provided by the University or an organisation working in the area of gender-based violence.

(49) Following receipt of an investigator's report, the University will consider the report and determine whether to impose disciplinary action. In making this determination, and in any subsequent staff discipline proceedings, the University:

Any staff member or affiliate who is responsible for considering and determining an appeal with respect to a disciplinary decision relating to an allegation of staff gender-based violence will have completed specialist training, to be provided by the University team or an organisation working in the area of gender-based violence.

If it is decided to proceed with a concurrent process, the University will proceed with care so as not to prejudice the criminal proceeding / process.

(56) Deferral or suspension of a University investigation does not prevent the University from taking interim measures in accordance with Section 8.

(57) If any court or tribunal makes a finding that a staff member has engaged in gender-based violence against any person, the University may rely on this finding as evidence in any subsequent misconduct investigation undertaken by the University in accordance with its misconduct procedures.

Section 8 - Interim Measures for the Respondent

(58) Where the University receives a formal report which includes a gender-based violence allegation against a staff member or where the University becomes aware that a report has been made to the police which includes a gender-based violence allegation against a staff member, the University may put in place interim measures to protect the safety and wellbeing of any member of the University community. Interim measures are not a penalty and do not preempt the outcome of an external investigation or a police investigation.

provide support to the Discloser throughout.

(81) All student accommodation providers (including affiliated student accommodation providers) must provide de-identified data on disclosures and formal reports.
